

CloudDesk Service Level Agreement (SLA)

Category: Reliability & Commercial | Applies to: Business & Enterprise

1. Uptime commitment

CloudDesk commits to a monthly uptime of 99.9% for Business plans and 99.95% for Enterprise plans, measured as the percentage of minutes the core ticketing API is available, excluding scheduled maintenance.

2. Support response targets

- Sev-1 (service down, business operations halted): first response within 1 hour, 24x7.
- Sev-2 (major feature impaired): first response within 4 business hours.
- Sev-3 (minor issue / question): first response within 1 business day.

3. Business impact & service credits

If monthly uptime falls below the committed level, affected customers may claim service credits against the next invoice:

- 99.0%–99.9%: 10% credit.
- 95.0%–99.0%: 25% credit.
- Below 95.0%: 50% credit.

Credits must be requested within 30 days of the incident and are the exclusive remedy for downtime. Credit requests are reviewed by a human account manager.

4. Incident communication

All incidents are posted to status.clouddesk.com. For Sev-1 incidents, Enterprise customers receive a formal Root Cause Analysis (RCA) within 5 business days describing scope, duration, business impact, and corrective actions. Questions about how a specific incident affected your operations or your eligibility for credits should be raised with your account manager.

5. Exclusions

- Scheduled maintenance announced at least 48 hours in advance.
- Issues caused by customer misconfiguration or third-party integrations.
- Force majeure events outside CloudDesk's reasonable control.
